Key Concepts for EH&S Excellence

1 - Make it personal. You will not change anyone's behavior if you cannot make it personal to them. Don't let individuals work in your facility without making contact and informing them of your companies EH&S expectations.

2 - Ask open ended questions about what they plan to do during the day, week, or month, etc. There are many examples of where a company could have prevented an injury by executing this simple questioning strategy.

3 - Create and foster an environment where everyone feels comfortable asking questions. Every question that goes un-asked places that person, you, and everyone in your facility at risk because a potential hazard may be lurking behind the unasked question.

4 - Escalation. Create an environment where everyone who works in your facility understands that escalation is both a right & expectation. Then escalate issues until you have resolution. Never leave items unresolved/un-escalated issues place you and others at risk. Don't do it.

5. Teamwork. Always get involved with each other's personal safety on the job as you would for your own family, make your co-workers on the job your job family and take care of each other on each job task!
